

Engaging Teens Through Your Library Module 2: What's the Impact?

After you watch the What's the Impact video and review the materials for this module, take a few minutes to consider one of your recent library activities. Think about what the impact of the activity is on teens by answering the questions below.

Describe the activity you held that you think had an impact on teens?

Using the YALSA Teens First Outcomes document which impacts listed on that document do you think the activity had on teens?

Why do you think those impacts were reached?

What examples do you have of those impacts being reached? (What did you see teens do or say to demonstrate those impacts?)

How might you begin to develop library activities and services that start with thinking about impact first and then build around that desired impact?
